

NUTRITION PROGRAM MANAGER

Would you enjoy leading a team dedicated to providing crucial community services?

Are you motivated to build and sustain successful programs for older adults?

Join our team as Nutrition Program Manager and:

- Use your exceptional leadership and management skills to ensure the provision of high-quality meals/nutrition services that meet the needs of older adults.
- Contribute to planning, program and fund development, performance assessment and quality improvement, budgeting, contract monitoring and reporting.
- Develop, implement and evaluate policies, procedures, processes, tools and systems to maximize efficiency and effectiveness and to ensure compliance.
- Recruit, train, support and supervise nutrition staff and volunteers while building and maintaining effective teams and nurturing a positive workplace culture.
- Contribute to public relations and education to inform older adults and attract public engagement and support for the Nutrition Program.

We're looking for a professional with at least five years' institutional or commercial food service experience providing staff supervision and team leadership. Experience managing community-based programs would be a plus, as would a degree in nutrition or social services.
